BASIC PRINCIPLES OF SHELTER

- 1) Porosity Shelter should slow the wind not stop it altogether.
Very dense belts such as bamboo dump the wind on the lee side.
- 2) Height Preferably as tall as the site allows. Shorter to the north of buildings, sheds, tracks and farm crossings or similar sites to avoid too much shading.
Deciduous trees can provide excellent shelter and shade in late spring, summer and autumn and let the light through in the winter.
- 3) Continuity Make belts as continuous as possible (gateway wide gaps are okay) to avoid wind accelerating through the gaps and around the ends of the rows.
- 4) Spacing

Formal trimmed hedges	0.3 – 1m high	4 - 6 plants per metre
	1m – 2.5m	3 plants per metre
Farm or horticultural shelter		1 plant per metre
Timber belts – single row		1 plant per 2 – 3 metres = 333 – 500 per km.
– double row	2m x 2m or 2.5m x 2.5m	= 800 – 1000 per km.

NB: Plant prices and grades as listed are subject to change without notice

CONTRACTING AND CONSULTANCY in Taranaki

Our team of tree people can advise on and plan your plantings to meet local conditions. We have many years of experience in the establishment and care of riparian strips, forestry blocks, and shelter belts on farm and house situations.

We offer a contracting service, for farm and plantation forestry, riparian and shelter-belt management, which includes pre and post planting weed control, plus planting, pruning, and thinning.

FORESTRY PRICING - PRICES are GST inclusive.

Over 55 plants of some single varieties = as per 100 rate

10 – 54 = as per 10 rate

1 – 9 = as per single plant rate

There are some exceptions to this discounting.

Quotes for planting, releasing etc will be discussed on request.

Prices depend on distance, tree numbers, terrain and ground conditions.
